

There is the captive sacred Cyclopean Eye that Never shuts—even when painted with pitch.
And always the fastidious id, the naked I.